On January 10, 1972, a newspaper clipping came to the attention of this office, undated, with a Washington byline captioned "Sanctuary for Racketeers," by JACK ANDERSON. The newspaper containing the article is also unknown, although it is noted that JACK ANDERSON is a syndicated columnist. In the article ANDERSON stated that racketeers with "Jewish background" have sought sanctuary in Israel, adding "the Israeli Government has been quietly investigating their dark pasts." ANDERSON identified these individuals as:

MEYER LANSKY;

HARRY STROMBERG,
also known as Nig Rosen;

JOE STACHER;

MORRIS SCHMERTZLER,
Also known as Max Courtney;

AL MONES;

HYMAN SEGAL;

FRANK RITTER,
Also known as Red Reed;

MEYER LANSKY

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN OTHERWISE.

The November 15, 1971, edition of the "Jerusalem Post," an English-language daily newspaper published in Jerusalem, Israel, contained the following:

"High Court Orders Stay of Lansky Expulsion"

"The High Court of Justice yesterday ordered the Minister of the Interior, Dr. Yosef Burg, to refrain from issuing an expulsion order against Meyer Lansky until such time as his petition for a writ against the Minister is finally decided.

"This interim order, as well as an order nisi calling on Dr. Burg to show cause, within thirty days, why he should not grant Meyer Lansky an immigrant's visa under the Law of Return, was issued by Supreme Court Justice Moshe Etzioni.

"The petition for the order nisi which was submitted by Advocate Yoram Alroy, states that when the 70-year-old Meyer Lansky arrived in Israel last July (1970) on a visitor's visa he announced his intention of applying for an immigrant's visa for the purpose of settling permanently in Israel. His lawyer was informed in December, however, that the Minister of the Interior was weighing up the question of whether to grant Lansky an immigrant's visa or not in the light of the fact that section 2 of the Law of Return empowers the Minister to refuse an immigrant's visa to an applicant who 'is a person with a criminal past, likely to endanger public welfare.'

"At the end of December the Minister of the Interior informed Lansky that he had decided not to grant him an immigrant's visa or renew his visitor's visa. This decision of the Minister was based on a study of almost 1,000 documents, photostatic copies of which were attached to the petition to the High Court. These documents, which were given to Mr. Alroy by Mrs. Huebner of the Ministry of the Interior for a period of 48 hours only, include reports of a U. S. Senate Committee on an investigation into organized crime in America, in which the name of Meyer Lansky is mentioned, and of the U. S. Immigration Department's attempts to cancel Lansky's American citizenship because of several prison sentences which had been imposed upon him at various times, as well as cuttings from the American press, including the Readers' Digest and Life, in which Lansky is associated with the American underworld.

"Mr. Alroy contends in his petition that he and his client were shown these documents only after the Minister had already reached his decision not to grant Lansky an immigrant's visa and that in failing to inform Lansky of the details of the charges against him and to give him an opportunity to defend himself, the Minister had violated the rules of natural justice.

"As to the value of the documents, Mr. Alroy alleged in his petition that an appreciable number of them have no connection whatsoever with Lansky, and that the rest are a 'collection of rumours, vilification and gossip from an undisclosed source.' The petition alleges furthermore that the documents provide no legal proof, or any evidence whatsoever, to justify defining Lansky as 'a person with a criminal past, likely to endanger public welfare.'

"In the petition Lansky denies all connection with the American underworld of organized crime and alleges that the charges brought against him in the U. S., when he was already in Israel, are completely unfounded, were framed with the intention of persecuting him and were irrelevant to his application for an immigrant's visa. As an example of the hostile atmosphere which had been created around Lansky, the petition mentions the fact that the U. S. authorities had invalidated his American passport several weeks ago, 'alleging that this was done with the intention of compelling him to return to the U. S. in the event that his Israel visa were not extended, as without a passport he would be unable to enter any other country.'

"In conclusion Advocate Alroy submits in his petition that Dr. Burg's handling of his client's application reveals an absence of good faith, an abuse of his powers, reliance on invalid considerations and an erroneous interpretation of the law."

The January 13, 1972, edition of the "Jerusalem Post," contained an article as follows:

"Lansky May Go Wherever He's Welcome

"The Minister of Interior is prepared to issue Meyer Lansky with a laissez passer enabling him to enter any country willing to accept him. This was disclosed yesterday in the Ministry of Interior's reply to a High Court order nisi calling on the Minister to justify his refusal to grant Lansky an immigrant visa.

"The reply, submitted by State Attorney Gabriel Bach, denied an allegation by Lansky that the Minister was indirectly seeking his extradition to the U. S. It revealed that the Minister had informed Lansky of the laissez passer offer last September, and that the offer still held good. Mr. Lansky's U. S. passport was invalidated because of charges pending against him in the U. S.

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"The Minister's reply to the High Court's order nisi, which was signed by Mrs. Yehudit Huebner, the Deputy Director-General of the Ministry of the Interior, in charge of immigration and registration, confirmed that since December, 1970, when Lansky had first applied for immigrant status, the Minister had been weighing up the possibility of rejecting his application on the grounds, laid down in section 2 (b) of the Law of the Return, 1950, that 'he was a person with a criminal past, likely to endanger public welfare.' He had not acted immediately upon impulse but had withheld his decision pending a thorough investigation of the information he had received concerning Lansky's connections with the world of organized crime.

"The Minister said in his statement that he had only reached his final conclusion to reject Lansky's application for an immigrant visa, after he had studied a report of the investigation carried out by Mr. Gabriel Bach, the State Attorney, in Washington, at the request of Mr. Shapiro, the Minister of Justice, as well as minutes of a three-hour meeting between Mrs. Huebner, the legal adviser of the Ministry, Lansky and his lawyer, in which Lansky had been given the opportunity to state his case fully.

"After being informed of the Minister's decision, Lansky asked for a meeting with him and an opportunity to study the documents and material which Mr. Bach had brought from a 10-day visit to the U. S. Justice Department. He was given copies of the documents and his attention was drawn to a number of books, dealing with organized crime in general and his activities in particular. He and his lawyer were informed that they would be given an opportunity of commenting on the material, after they had had time to study it. However, after studying the material, Lansky had decided to petition the High Court instead of taking advantage of this opportunity.

"State Attorney's Study

"The statement gave a summary of the information collected by Mr. Bach.

"This information was divided under several headings. The first related to publications on organized crime in America, in each of which a 'place of honour' was given to Lansky, classing him with the 'big names' in the American underworld. Amongst quotations from these publications is the following from 'Theft of the Nation,' a book by Professor Cressey, a member of the President's Commission on

Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, which was published in 1969: 'The career of Maier Suchowljansky (Meyer Lansky) - a poor Russian immigrant who began his work in organized crime as an executioner and boasts because his enterprise is 'bigger than United States Steel' - is not likely to be frequently duplicated in the future. For that matter, even now there are few businessmen, criminal or non-criminal, who possess the untrained organizational genius which enabled Suchowljansky to become the world's most successful money mover and corrupter... Specifically, toleration of Lansky probably rests on Casa Nostra's need for expert knowledge about gambling, especially casino gambling...'

"Criminal Convictions

"The second heading deals with Lansky's criminal convictions. These appear to be remarkably mild for a man with such a notorious reputation, including only two convictions for disorderly conduct in 1918 and 1920, a fine of $100 for contravening the Prohibition laws in 1931, a fine of $1,000 for illicit gambling activities in his Florida Green Acres Club in 1950, and a three months' prison sentence for contraventions of the New York gambling laws in 1953.

"The insignificance of Lansky's criminal convictions is ascribed in the reply to the fact that local sheriffs and other law enforcement officers were in Lansky's pay or otherwise indebted to him, but that they were forced, in 1950 and again in 1953, to bring at least minor charges against Lansky in view of the notorious publicity he was receiving in the press and other publications. Furthermore, the statement notes that it has always been difficult to bring gangsters and mobsters to justice in America because of the virtual impossibility of getting witnesses to testify against them and the non-cooperation of the law-enforcement officers.

"Under the heading of 'Charges Pending' against Lansky two committals to trial are included - by the Grand Jury of Florida on March 25, 1971 and by the Grand Jury of Nevada, on October 22, 1971 - on charges connected with illicit gambling activities; and a committal to trial by the Florida Grand Jury - on March 24, 1971 - on a charge of criminal contempt, in that Lansky refused to appear before it after being lawfully subpoenaed.

"It was in consequence of these indictments, that the validity of Lansky's U. S. passport was cancelled.

"Kefauver Report

"Amongst the most damning allegations against Lansky are those contained in the Kefauver Report, the findings of a special committee, headed by Senator Kefauver, appointed by the U. S. Senate to investigate organized crime in interstate commerce, with particular emphasis on gambling and racketeering.

"After hearing over 500 witnesses, including Lansky and top-ranking gangsters, the Committee concluded that gambling enterprises formed the hard-rock core of organized crime in U. S. cities and that the gangs operating the gambling enterprises 'are the survivors of the murderous underworld wars of the prohibition era.' In the Committee's words: 'Crime is on a syndicated basis to a substantial extent in many cities. The two major crime syndicates in this country are the Accardo-Guzik-Fischetti syndicate, whose headquarters are Chicago; and the Costello-Adonis-Lansky syndicate based in New York...'

N1 { "In his testimony before the Kefauver Committee, ^{Italy U.S.A.} Lansky refused to answer questions concerning his business activities and his association with leading gangsters such as Lucky Luciano, Frank Costello, Joe Adonis, etc., on the grounds that his replies would tend to incriminate him. Joe Adonis, Gerald Catend, Frank Erickson (all amongst the mobster 'elite') refused to answer questions about their ^{U.S.A.} association with Lansky, on the same grounds.

"Another witness, Barney Rudinski, who was employed as a 'debt collector' by the gambling clubs, informed the Committee that he had never killed anyone without an O.K. from above and that at least until 1941 killings had to be cleared in New York with Lansky.

"Reports of other Investigation Committees.

"Another Senate Committee, headed by Senator McClellan, appointed 'To Investigate Improper Activities in the Labour or Management Field,' describes Lansky in its report as 'one of the country's top gangsters' and associates him with the Mafia.

^{VINCENT TERESA}

"Another Senate Committee investigating organized crime in the U. S. in July, 1971, was told by Vincent Charles ^{U.S.A.} Teresa, one of the very few Mafia members who consented to break his oath of silence to his organization, that: 'Gambling is the single most important activity for organized crime. Meyer Lansky is the biggest man in the casino gambling business. Cellini is the second man. That's the way it has been for many years.'

"A Royal Commission investigating gambling in the Bahama Islands in 1967 records the testimony of Sir Stafford Sands, the Governor of the Islands, to the effect that Lansky had approached him around 1960 and offered him a cheque for $2,000,000 in exchange for a permit to operate gambling clubs in the Bahamas.

"Among other numerous documents which Mr. Bach brought back from the U. S. is the evidence of Daniel Francis Ahearn, who testified during an inquiry to decide whether to cancel Lansky's American citizenship. He said he had been associated with Lansky in several crimes, including robbery, and attempted murder. U.S.A.

"Another document - a report of the Bureau of Narcotics, issued in July, 1961 - describes Meyer Lansky as 'one of this nation's leading mobsters, one of the top Jewish associates in a syndicate composed of high-ranking hoodlums of Italian extraction who control the major rackets in the U.S.A. and Canada.'

"A comprehensive 50-page report on Lansky's life and activities, prepared by the Income Tax Department of the U.S.A., sums up Lansky's history as showing that 'he has been a criminal all his adult life.'

'Minister's conclusion

"Mrs. Huebner's reply to the High Court's order nisi states that on the basis of all this information, the Minister had come to the conclusion that Meyer Lansky had a criminal past, and that because of the special nature of this criminal past, he was likely to endanger the welfare of the Israel public if allowed to remain in the country.

"She backed up this latter conclusion on the part of the Minister with reports to the effect that notorious drug smugglers were attempting to organize a 'summit meeting' of the Crime Syndicate with Lansky in Tel Aviv. These reports came from Interpol and from London's New Scotland Yard.

"She stressed that from all the information available concerning the organized crime syndicates in the U.S., it was clear that the leading members of these syndicates were not in the habit of 'retiring' and severing themselves completely from their former associates and activities.

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"Mrs. Huebner then rebutted Lansky's allegations in his petition for an order nisi that the Minister of the Interior was using indirect and devious methods in order to extradite him to America, pointing out that already in September, 1971, the Minister had informed Lansky that he was prepared to give him a laissez passer which would enable him to enter any country which agreed to accept him, and that he was still willing to do so.

"In conclusion, Mrs. Huebner strongly denied that the Minister had acted in bad faith and in violation of the principles of natural justice - as alleged by Lansky. She claimed, on the contrary, that the Minister had exercised his discretion in a proper and fitting manner in deciding to deny Lansky immigrant status or permission to continue to remain in Israel as a temporary resident, particularly since the Knesset had had no intention of turning Israel into a place of refuge for persons with criminal pasts who are a potential danger to the public welfare."

The January 24, 1972, edition of the "Jerusalem Post" contained a letter to the editor of the newspaper, captioned "Feeling of Relief" (editor's comment), as follows:

"Sir, - The tremendous relief that was experienced upon reading the news of Meyer Lansky's pending expulsion from Israel has not been duplicated since my arrival in Israel.

"One of the main reasons I left Chicago and immigrated to Israel was to escape the choking knowledge that I was living within one of the largest and most corrupt political machines in existence today, and that there was nothing in the world that I could do to dent it, because even the officers of law were given to accepting bribes.

"I came with a deep love and sincere belief in the innate integrity of Israel's ideals. But upon hearing of Lansky's acceptance by Israel, the last of that belief was almost drained, and I lived in horror of the day when Israel, too, would be overridden by the scum of the earth.

"There must be many others who came from America and can empathize with the feeling of relief from impending terror that was experienced by the fear that Meyer Lansky and others like him would be welcomed here as new immigrants, and I want to say thank you to all those responsible who were not blind.

RE: MEYER LANSKY

The March 24, 1972, issue of the "Jerusalem Post," contained the following article:

"State Tries to Document Lansky's Criminal Past"

"Even assuming for argument's sake that Meyer Lansky was once a big-time gangster, is he still one today? Is he, a man of 70 whose last conviction was in 1953, now in 1972 still 'likely to endanger the public welfare' in the words of the Law of Return?"

"This was the crucial question which Justice Berenson put to State Attorney Gabriel Bach in the High Court of Justice yesterday. Mr. Bach spent much of the four-hour session trying to prove that Mr. Lansky has kept up his underworld activities till the present day, and that the Minister of Interior was therefore right in refusing to grant him an immigrant's status under the Law of Return. (The Law of Return excludes persons 'with a criminal past who are likely to endanger the public welfare.')

"The Lansky hearing ended its second day before the five-Judge High Court bench with Mr. Lansky's own lawyer, Mr. Yoram Alroi, yet to present his case. The State Attorney concluded his presentation at one o'clock and the court adjourned until this morning.

"(The hearing was originally set for Wednesday and Thursday. It now goes into its third day, and Mr. Alroi has already informed the court that one day will not suffice.)

"Lansky in Court"

"Mr. Lansky himself was again in court for the entire session, sitting with his U. S. lawyer, Mr. David Rosen, with a translator between them simultaneously translating the proceedings into English.

"The most recent evidence involving Mr. Lansky which Mr. Bach cited was the testimony in 1971 of a former Mafia man, Vincent Teresa, before a U. S. Senate Committee on organized crime. Vincent, who claimed to be the grandson of a Mafia 'don,' said inter-alia: 'Meyer Lansky is the biggest man in the casino gambling business... That's the way it has been for many years.'

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"Teresa added that 'gambling is the single most important activity for organized crime. They control it all over the country and all over the world...'

"Vincente was the second Mafioso to break the omerta - the dreaded vow of silence which had for so long proved stronger than all the police and FBI interrogators. Eight years earlier, in 1963, a Mafia man named Joseph Valachi 'sang' to the Senate Committee. (His evidence was later the basis of a best-seller, 'The Valachi Papers.')

Member

"Valachi told the Committee that Lansky had masterminded the killing of Maranzano, who became the 'boss of bosses' after 'Lucky' Luciano was deported to Sicily. Valachi said that Maranzano was killed by a group of gangsters disguised as policemen who were led by Lansky's henchman Red Levine.

"Most recent evidence against Lansky came from secret tapo-recordings which the FBI made at a gangster's retreat in New Jersey between 1961 and 1965. One gangster is taped as saying: 'Meyer owns more in Vegas than anybody - than all of our put together (sic). He's got a piece of every joint in Vegas.'

"In 1961, the Federal Bureau of Narcotics produced a report on Lansky which said inter-alia: 'Meyer Lansky (alias "Bugs Meyer," Morris Lieberman, Meyer "The Bug," Little Meyer, George Lieberman, Meyer Lamansky, Meyer "The Lug"), Bureau of Narcotics International list No. 169, one of this nation's leading mobsters, is one of the top Jewish associates in a syndicate composed of high-ranking hoodlums of Italian extraction who control the major rackets in the U. S. and Canada.'

"Criminal Life

"Another relatively recent report which Mr. Bach cited was made by the U. S. Inland Revenue in 1959. It declared: 'Lansky's history shows he has been a criminal all his adult life.'

"In the same year, 1959, the Senate appointed a 'Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labour or Management Field.' Its task was to investigate the links between organized crime and trade unions.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"Mr. Bach told the court that Lansky's name came up frequently during the Committee's investigations. Its final report described him as 'one of the country's top gangsters.' Witness after witness revealed, under the questioning of Robert Kennedy, the links between organized crime and organized labour - especially with the Teamsters Union.

"Evidence of Lansky's alleged attempts to infiltrate into gambling casinos in the Bahamas came up in a Royal Commission of Inquiry appointed in 1967. A certain Sir Stafford Sands, who later became a member of the Governor of the Bahamas' Advisory Council, testified to the Commission that in 1960 Mr. Lansky had offered him a cheque for $2m. in return for arranging a gambling concession on the islands. (Sands apparently accepted the bribe, and his career as a lawyer was completely ruined by the investigation of the Commission.)

"In 1963 and again in 1966 Mr. Lansky appeared before New York grand juries, but refused to answer - on the ground that his answer 'might tend to incriminate him' - such questions as 'Where do you work?' 'What do you do for a living?' 'Do you have any interests in any casinos in Las Vegas?' and 'Have you ever been to Grand Bahama Island?'

"Of course, the State Attorney admitted, Mr. Lansky's reticence alone could not incriminate him, but how did it square with his claim that he has had no interests in any U. S. gambling since 1950, and none in Cuba since 1959? Mr. Bach said that Mr. Lansky had repeated this claim to Mrs. Yehudit Huebner, the senior Interior Ministry official who handled his application for immigrant's rights.

"If the claim was true, why did he refuse to answer the grand juries' questions? the State Attorney asked. And why was he now refusing to obey a subpoena issued against him to appear before a grand jury?

"Most damaging to Mr. Lansky's contention that he has 'retired' to Israel was the evidence brought by Mr. Bach of an underworld 'summit' meeting which was planned for Tel Aviv last year with Mr. Lansky's participation. Acting on tips from Interpol and the British police, the Israel police barred three American citizens - Messrs. Sigelbaum, Marcus and Rose - from entering the country. Other would-be summitters called off their trips following the expulsion of these three.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"Destination: Tel Aviv

"A cable from New Scotland Yard to Israel police at the time read in part: 'The suggested final destination was Tel Aviv, where it was thought the above subjects would endeavour to make contact with Meyer Lansky, the notorious boss of organized crime in Miami, Florida, and now resident of Israel.' Interpol in Washington cabled that Sigelbaum was known as a courier, who took money 'skimmed' from the Las Vegas casinos and deposited it in Switzerland on Lansky's behalf.

"If only part of the hundreds of testimonies, the committee reports, the books, the articles, the 'notorious facts' - as Mr. Bach termed them - were true, that was sufficient grounds for the Minister of Interior's decision that he had 'a criminal past and was likely to endanger the public welfare' within the meaning of the Law of Return, Mr. Bach contended. The cumulative weight of all the material left the Minister with no alternative, he claimed.

"The courtroom was much fuller yesterday than on Wednesday, with a brisk traffic of sightseers who sat down for a few minutes, gazed raptly at Mr. Lansky, and left again, their noisy movements visibly annoying the bench.

"Those who listened to the State Attorney were treated to some gruesome episodes from the history of pre-World War II gangland feuds. A detective named Ruditzki who later worked as an 'enforcer' for the gangs, gave evidence to the 1950 Senate Kefauver Committee that there were no killings in New York before 1941 without an okay from Lansky.

FL-7. "A sheriff from Florida named Walter Clark told the Committee that he had been helped in his election campaign by Meyer Lansky's brother (and partner) Jake Lansky. Once installed as sheriff, Clark showed his gratitude by turning a blind eye to gambling in his county, Broward County, Fla. He even ordered his police force to provide guards for the armoured cars in which the money from the gambling clubs was transported.

"One-time Accomplice

"Mr. Bach also quoted from a 142-page sworn statement given to the police by a criminal named Daniel Francis Ahearn in 1957. Ahearn spoke of many crimes which he and Lansky had committed together in the 'twenties. He told for instance how Lansky had cracked a man's head with an iron bar when the man refused to take part in a strike Lansky had planned.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"On another occasion, in 1928, Ahearn said Lansky and Bugsy Siegel had shot and tried to kill a gangster called Barret. Despite three bullet-wounds, Barret survived. Lansky made another attempt to dispose of him by sending him a poisoned chicken to his hospital room. (The story - it is a classic in the annals of those wild days - is that when the wounded Barret heard from his wife that the chicken was a gift from Lansky he threw it away and was thus spared.)

"Mr. Lansky's counsel will produce a statement from Barret's sister saying that he was 'a pathological liar,' but Mr. Bach said that the fact that Lansky was arrested for the shooting - though subsequently released - shows that Barret did not invent the entire episode. (Mr. Bach did not deal with the fact that Barret was himself a self-confessed killer, which must weaken the weight of his evidence.)

"Mr. Lansky did not suffer yesterday the pangs of hunger which he said he felt by the end of Wednesday's long session. As soon as the court rose for the mid-morning interval he made straight for the canteen and fortified himself with a sandwich. Asked by an American newsman how he felt the case was going, Mr. Lansky said he was 'not an expert' in these matters."

The April 14, 1972, edition of the "Jerusalem Post", contained an article, which, in part, is as follows:

"After Lansky: New Law Likely

"What was the difference between the cases of Meyer Lansky and Joe Stasher? This was a question posed to the Minister of Interior, Dr. Yosef Burg, by members of 'The Jerusalem Post' staff at an interview this week. Why had the Interior Ministry granted Mr. Stasher an immigrant's permit and then refused the same to Mr. Lansky, when both men are allegedly connected with the U. S. underworld? (Mr. Lansky is now contesting the Ministry's refusal in a High Court action.)

"Dr. Burg said that the permit to Mr. Stasher had been issued before he took office. Nevertheless, both he and his Ministry's Director-General, Mr. Haim Kubersky, who accompanied the Minister at 'The Post' editorial meeting, were eager to explain the decision-making process in the two cases.

RE: MEYER LANSKY

Joe Stasher

"Mr. Stasher (known as 'Doc' Stasher) first applied for citizenship in 1964. The then Minister of Interior, the late Moshe Haim Shapiro, refused him, but said that he might live in Israel on an extended tourist visa for a probation period. Several times over the following six years, Mr. Stasher renewed his application, and each time the reply was the same: wait and see. Quite by coincidence, according to Ministry Spokesman Yitzhak Agassi, the decision eventually came through just after Mr. Shapiro died, and there was an interregnum at the Ministry. The responsibility for deciding was that of Deputy Minister Yosef Goldschmidt, and he was guided by a 'clean bill of health' on Stasher from the police. W.S.
Israel

"No pressure had been brought to bear from anyone inside or outside the National Religious Party, the Minister and his officials were at pains to stress. (Allegations of pressure have been levelled in some local newspapers.)

"Mr. Lansky had been better known than Mr. Stasher. When he arrived in 1970 and applied for citizenship under the Law of Return, Minister Burg postponed a final decision while he took steps to gather information on Lansky.

"There had been no mysterious hesitations. From the very first time the Ministry extended Mr. Lansky's tourist visa, it wrote to him explicitly that the decision depended on the information to be gathered about him. (Eventually, the State Attorney was dispatched to the U. S. and returned with two suitcases full of official committee reports and police and Justice Department files, all prejudicial to Mr. Lansky. On the basis of this, the Minister decided to refuse his application.)

"Mr. Agassi said that if Mr. Stasher was applying today for citizenship - he would be turned down out of hand, because the Ministry was now more alive to the danger of Israel's becoming a haven for undesirable elements.

"How had this heightened 'awareness' operated in the recent episode of Maurice Savell, the South African financier who allegedly left hundreds of investors high and dry and fled to Israel when his chain of companies got into difficulties? He applied for and received a year's temporary resident's permit from the Interior Ministry offices in Tel Aviv with no difficulty.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEYER LANSKY

"The men from the Ministry replied that they had had no knowledge or forewarning on Mr. Savell until it was too late. (The South African press had carried his story - together with speculation that he had fled to Israel - three weeks before Mr. Savell applied for his permit, but the Israeli Consulates had apparently not relayed the information to the Ministry.) 'We do not have a detective agency,' Dr. Burg stressed. 'If neither the police, nor Interpol, nor our legations abroad give us any information - then we have no reason not to grant a man's request.'

"Dr. Burg said he expected the current High Court case of Lansky v. the Interior Ministry would lead to new legislation defining the terms 'criminal past' and 'to the Minister's satisfaction' in the Law of Return..."

The remainder of the article deals with controversial points regarding the Israeli Law of Return, as well as some comments by Interior Minister Burg on responsibilities of his office.

RE: MEYER LANSKY

The "Jerusalem Post," an English language newspaper published in Jerusalem, Israel, for June 7, 8, 9, 21, and 22, 1972, contained articles reporting on the Federal Grand Jury indictment in the United States regarding charges against the subject of conspiring to evade Federal income tax; the resumption of subject's case before the High Court after an adjournment; the issuance of a warrant for subject's arrest by a Federal Court in Manhattan; and the speculation in "legal circles" that the warrant for subject's arrest would be grounds for his extradition.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

The 10/5/72, edition of "The Jerusalem Post," an English-language newspaper, published in Jerusalem, Israel, contains an article captioned "Police Tried to Have Lansky Extradited." This article states that an unidentified high-ranking officer of the INP met with the late Director of the FBI J. EDGAR HOOVER in the United States in an unsuccessful attempt to have LANSKY extradited.

[REDACTED]

An information copy of this communication is being furnished Legat, Rome, since Greece and Turkey are countries within his territory. No lead is being set forth for any investigation in those countries at this time pending additional information which may substantiate the above.

This is to advise of telephonic information received this afternoon, 11/6/72, from our Legal Attache in Buenos Aires, Argentina, who advised that captioned fugitive (a major organized crime figure being sought for violations of the Anti-Racketeering Statute) had arrived in Buenos Aires by a Pan American flight from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, this afternoon. According to the Legal Attache, upon his arrival in Rio de Janeiro, he was informed by Brazilian authorities that he could not remain permanently in that country. He was therefore almost immediately placed on the Pan American flight to Buenos Aires by the Brazilian authorities. The Legal Attache stated that the Argentina authorities, likewise, do not desire that Lansky remain in their country and they have scheduled him for a flight to Asuncion, Paraguay, which flight is scheduled to leave from Buenos Aires this afternoon.

ACTION:

The Legal Attache at Buenos Aires stated he would keep the Bureau advised and should deportation in Paraguay appear possible, he will furnish the anticipated cost figures concerning Lansky's deportation to the United States.

Meyer Lansky, a major organized crime figure, was arrested by FBI Agents under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge at Miami upon Lansky's arrival by plane from Panama at 6:30 a.m., 11/7/72. Lansky, who was being sought for criminal contempt of a Federal grand jury and for income tax violations, has been residing in Israel since 1970; however, he departed that country on 11/5/72 via Switzerland en route to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. When the Brazilians refused to allow him permanent residence in that country, he thereafter was placed on a flight which, after stopping at several Latin American capital cities, terminated in Miami on the morning of 11/7/72.

The Miami Office telephonically advised the Bureau of Lansky's apprehension, noting there was considerable local press interest in Miami. Lansky will be arraigned before a magistrate in Miami based on the contempt citation warrant as well as on the indictment for income tax violations.

ACTION:

This matter has been coordinated with the Crime Records Division in view of the press interest. 15 NOV 9 1972

Lansky Seized By Miami FBI

MIAMI (UPI)—Meyer Lansky, reputed financial wizard of the underworld's gambling empire, was arrested by federal agents today after a two-day aerial odyssey looking for sanctuary from American justice.

Lansky, 70, was escorted off a Braniff jetliner which landed here by Kenneth Whittaker, in charge of the Miami FBI office, and several other agents.

He left Israel late Sunday, five days before a deportation deadline.

Lansky's arrest ended a 12,000-mile flight in search of asylum during which Peru joined Israel, Switzerland, Argentina and Paraguay in rejecting him.

After being cleared by Customs and Immigration officials, Lansky was questioned for nearly two hours at the FBI building in Miami and was booked on charges of income tax evasion and illegal gambling.

He was led to a car and transported to the Federal Building where he was placed in a detention cell. Arraignment was set for later today before a U.S. magistrate.

Bond was expected to be set at $200,000.

Wearing a rumpled blue sport coat with a white shirt open at the collar, the short, gray-haired Lansky smiled and chatted with the federal agents as he walked toward the customs and immigration offices.

Lansky's wife, Thelma, is still in Tel Aviv. He was denied permission to settle in Israel because, a court ruled, he is a threat to public safety.

Lansky reportedly offered $1 million to any country that would take him in.

Lansky was indicted in Miami in March 1971, when he failed to answer a grand jury subpoena to testify. Later, he was indicted by grand juries in Miami, New York and Las Vegas for income tax evasion and interstate transportation in aid of racketeering.

Dougald McMillan, chief of the Justice Department's strike force in Miami, said Lansky faced a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on the interstate transportation charge and one to five years on the tax evasion charges.

2 Persons Slain in Virgin Islands Robbery

CHRISTIANSTAD, St. Croix. Two men were shot to death and a third seriously wounded during a robbery at a Virgin Islands restaurant, police reported yesterday.

The incident follows by two months a similar robbery-slaying which resulted in the deaths of eight persons at the Captain Valley Golf Club on St. Croix, one of three islands in the Virgin Islands.

Amateur said four men entered the Brahmans restaurant Tuesday night, demanded money and then opened fire on the three customers.

The dead were Fritz Pan-Roke, 29, manager of ground services at Alexander Hamilton Airport, and Hans Onken, an employee of Hys Oil Co. in a room on St. Croix, police said.

The third victim, John Fowler, 41, also a Hys employee, was hospitalized in serious condition with a fatal gunshot wound.

Fatal Ambush

NEW YORK—One youth was killed and another injured in an apparent ambush.

Police said the gang leader in the lobby of a Chinatown movie theater, authorities reported yesterday.

Police said Yuk Chong Tan, 40, and Philip Pan, 40, were hit by gunfire as they stepped into the lobby of the Cinema Theater late Tuesday from a subway tunnel from a balcony.

Tan was hit by three bullets in the back and Pan suffered wounds in the back and right arm, police said.

A police spokesman said they are looking for three members of the Black Angels, one of a number of youth gangs involved in rivalries that have resulted in three killings this year and 60 arrests during 1971.

Police Kill Man

NEWARK, N.J. Police shot and killed a 22-year-old Negro man and wounded his brother yesterday after responding to a report of a shooting death at a second floor flat. One patrolman was slightly wounded.

Deputy Police Chief Kenneth Melchior said Jose Martinez Mendez was pronounced dead at Marlboro Medical Center with multiple bullet wounds.

His brother, Felipe, 22, was listed in poor condition with two bullet wounds sustained in the gun battle with police at the apartment.

Police responded to a report of a family argument involving Jose Mendez and his wife, Gloria, 22.

Melchior said that when the patrolmen arrived at the scene they found the couple engaged in a heated argument. While attempting to control the situation they became involved in a scuffle with Jose and seven other men, including Felipe, who rushed the pair when the officers intervened.

Lansky, Bail -

MIAMI — Meyer Lansky, reputedly a former financial underworld genius, was under court orders yesterday to stay in southern Florida after being arrested here Tuesday.

Lansky, 71, was arrested at Miami airport after being refused entry to Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay, Peru, and Panama. Nine hours later, he was freed on $50,000 bail.

Charges are pending against Lansky in Las Vegas and New York for alleged income tax evasion and interstate racketeering.

During a court appearance Tuesday, his lawyer, E. David Rosen, asking for a reduction of bail, said Lansky "is not the kind of person who would fly in the face of the law -- he has no place to go."

Buffalo Bomb

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 8—A bomb exploded early yesterday on the campus of the state university at Buffalo. There were no injuries and damage was slight.

A second, unexploded, device was found a short time later.

The bomb exploded only a few minutes after a call was made to the offices of the campus newspaper, the Spectator. A male voice said the bomb would explode in a short time, but the caller did not give a location on campus.

The bomb went off shortly after midnight on the east side of Sherman Hall, causing "minimal damage" to the building, a campus spokesman said. Police said the unexploded device was not a定时炸弹.

School Eviction

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Gov. Edwin Edwards has set a 1 p.m. deadline today for militant students to give up Southern University in New Orleans or be evicted by "whatever means necessary."

He issued the ultimatum yesterday in Baton Rouge, and at the same time created a 23-member special committee to talk with students about their complaints regarding the university.

Corona Trial

FAIRFIELD, Calif.—A sheriff's deputy testified yesterday he found a post hole digger with "some hair on the digging portion" in the garage of mass murder defendant Juan V. Corona.

"It was the most damaging evidence produced to date by the prosecution against the man accused of slaying 25 migrant workers whose bodies were found buried along the Feather river."

'Angel' Berserk

UKIAH, Calif.—Hell's Angel turncoat George Wethern "went off his rocker," jabbing pencils into his eyes and choking his wife in their Mendocino County jail cell, the county sheriff said yesterday.

Wethern, 33, poked holes in the inside corner of both eyes and in the skin above the eyeballs in his effort to blind himself but suffered no permanent damage to his eyesight, said Sheriff Reno Bartolome. His wife Helen, 29, was not hurt.

Wethern owns a 153-acre ranch near Ukiah where three bodies were unearthed last week by authorities who described it as a "Hell's Angels burying ground." Four Angels were arrested in the slayings.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The November 8, 1972, issue of the "Jerusalem Post" contains an article which incisively illustrates the high feeling existing in Israel over LANSKY's expulsion. The article, captioned "Lansky's Odyssey and the Law of Return, Personal Opinion," is written by a staff writer of that paper, who with considerable emotion and anger attacks the Government of Israel in general and the Minister of Interior, Dr. YOSEF BURG, and State Attorney, Mr. GAVRIEL BACH, in particular. The writer, DAVID LANDAU, in brief, regards the expulsion as the unfair and even illegal treatment of a Jew by the Government of Israel, relating the case to Israel's Law of Return. The Law of Return allows any Jew of the world to migrate to Israel without concern for quota. The action on the part of the Government in LANSKY's case was an equivocation to justify the expulsion. LANSKY's rejection by one country after another in his flight on November 5 and 6, 1972, was equated by LANDAU "to the sight of the wandering homeless Jews, rebounding from one closed door to another, with no door of his own to knock at." He states that LANSKY's case is "even more poignant in some respects than the story of the German Jew in 1939 who searched frantically on a travel agent's globe for a possible country of refuge, but ended up begging the travel agent: 'have you got another globe perhaps?'"

The treatment of LANSKY (by virtue of his expulsion) is regarded by LANDAU as disdainful of the Law of Return.
